HEADMASTER'S REGULATIONS

1. Parents agree to accept the decision of the Headmaster in all matters relating to School organisation and discipline, and such decision shall be final. These matters include the conduct of students generally, including in particular the matters dealt with in these regulations, and punishment, including suspension or expulsion from the School.
2. The Headmaster or his authorised representative may require parents to withdraw their son with immediate effect following a formal disciplinary process in cases of serious or repeated misconduct.
3. St John's is a Church school of the Church of the Province of Southern Africa (Anglican). Students at St John's come from many Christian denominations and from other religions. All students are required to attend morning assemblies and services. No boys will be compelled to take part in practices not appropriate to their beliefs but will be expected to be present in a respectful and reverent manner at chapel services and assemblies and to attend Divinity lessons.
4. Students are required to behave in a manner which does not harm the School and the Headmaster reserves the right to punish students for bad work or misbehaviour. He also reserves the right to punish students for misbehaviour out of School.
5. The Headmaster reserves the right to delegate authority to the Deputies and Housemasters to punish students when necessary. (Corporal punishment is strictly forbidden).
6. Permission for absence during the School term for reasons other than illness must be obtained from the Headmaster of the College. Such permission will not normally be given merely to facilitate holiday arrangements.
7. When a student has been ill, his absence must be explained in writing to his Housemaster.
8. Smoking, the drinking of alcohol and any introduction of, trafficking in or use of illicit substances (including cigarettes, alcohol, steroids, inhalants, misuse of prescription drugs, misuse of domestic products or drugs), at the School are absolutely forbidden. Any involvement in illicit substances will be regarded as a very serious offence and could lead to parents being required to withdraw their child from the School.
9. No dangerous objects may be brought onto the school campus (grounds and buildings) without permission from the Headmaster. Knives, firearms or any other dangerous weapons will be confiscated.
10. No form of bullying will be tolerated. Moreover, to stand by when someone else is being bullied, is to support or be associated with the bullying, which also constitutes the offence. (Refer to the policy on Harassment, Intimidation and Bullying).

11. Students may not be absent from games or other School activities without the prior permission of his Housemaster except in cases of illness as in (7).
12. Participation in sport, attendance to watch certain games and attendance at various functions (for example, Speech Day, Gaudy Day) is compulsory. It is expected that on these occasions School takes precedence over other activities.
13. The following transgressions will not be tolerated and are punishable offences:
 - Unacceptable sexual behaviour or activity will not be tolerated. This includes the viewing, possessing, producing or circulating of pornography; and sexual harassment, which is unwanted conduct (verbal or physical) of a sexual nature by the offenders in respect of another person.
 - Theft. Included here is the unauthorised "borrowing" or displacement of another student's property.
 - Dishonesty - cheating, plagiarism and conduct misrepresenting the truth.
 - Racism, sexism or any other form of unacceptable prejudice.
 - Truancy (not attending lessons, Chapel or any compulsory activity without good reason).
 - Insolence, gross insubordination and harassment of staff, which includes threats, intimidation, the use of offensive language, or swearing by verbal or electronic means or otherwise.
 - Vandalism, which includes defacing and/or damaging of school property through graffiti, painting or writing on any surface which belongs to the school.
 - Contravening the College's Information Technology (IT) Policy as stated in the separate IT document and on every log-on screen.
 - Failing to report and/or aid in the investigation of an alleged act of serious misconduct.
 - Committing any act which is prohibited by the law in South Africa.
 - Continual breaking of College rules.

The St John's College Disciplinary Procedure is available on the school's website or on request.

14. For day students on the School premises and for boarders at all times during the term, the Headmaster is in loco parentis. The exact interpretation of this phrase in an emergency must be left to the discretion of the Headmaster who will consult parents where, in his opinion, it is possible.
15. The School reserves the right to detain students for misconduct or unsatisfactory work.
16. No day students are permitted to leave the School premises during School hours without permission from his Housemaster or Headmaster. Boarders are not permitted to leave the School premises without permission from their Housemaster, except on official School business.

St John's College Policy on Harassment, Intimidation and Bullying

St John's College is committed to providing a safe and civil educational environment for all pupils, free from harassment, intimidation or bullying.

"Harassment, intimidation or bullying" means any intentional written, verbal, or physical act, when the intentional written, verbal, or physical act: Physically or emotionally harms a pupil or damages the pupil's property; or has the effect of substantially interfering with a pupil's education; or is so severe, persistent, or pervasive that it creates an intimidating or threatening educational environment; or has the effect of substantially disrupting the orderly operation of the school.

Nothing in this policy requires the affected pupil to possess a characteristic that is a perceived basis for the harassment, intimidation, or bullying, or other distinguishing characteristic.

Harassment, intimidation or bullying can take many forms including: slurs, rumours, jokes, innuendos, demeaning comments, drawing cartoons, pranks, gestures, physical attacks, threats, or other written, oral or physical actions. "Intentional acts" refers to the individual's choice to engage in the act rather than the ultimate impact of the action(s).

This policy is not intended to prohibit expression of religious, philosophical, or political views, provided that the expression does not substantially disrupt the educational environment.

Counseling, corrective discipline, and/or referral to the Disciplinary Council will be used to change the behaviour of the perpetrator and remediate the impact on the victim. This includes appropriate intervention(s), restoration of a positive climate, and support for victims and others impacted by the violation.

False reports or retaliation for harassment, intimidation or bullying also constitutes violations of this policy.

PUPIL CODE OF CONDUCT

As a pupil at St John's College, I have the right to a quality education. I have the right to pursue my studies in an encouraging, secure and successful educational environment. To help achieve this, I accept the following responsibilities and agree:

- To honour God and to respect the Christian values and traditions of the School;
- To abide by the various school policies which govern my conduct and appearance;
- To pursue my studies with dedication, honesty and diligence, to the best of my ability;
- To attend all compulsory events at School on time, including lessons, chapel, assemblies, hymn practices and extramural events;
- To avoid aggressive behaviour;
- To be responsible for caring for my own possessions at School while respecting the property of others. In agreeing to this I understand that it is considered a serious offence to "borrow" or displace another person's property without his or her consent;
- To ensure that my uniform, personal grooming and appearance matches School standards and policies;
- To avoid bringing dangerous objects, offensive material, harmful or illegal substances to School. In agreeing to this, I acknowledge the seriousness of illicit substance related activities on or off the School premises;
- To avoid any actions that disrupts lessons or in any way infringe on the teachers' right to teach and the right of my fellow students to learn.
- To contribute to lessons and, when voicing my opinion, to do so honestly and openly, but politely;
- To be considerate in my actions to all students and staff;
- To avoid engaging in any activity that may jeopardise the safety, security or academic progress of any other person at school;
- To display good sportsmanship by encouraging team spirit and by being respectful towards opponents;
- To respect people of different gender, colour or creed;
- To behave in an exemplary manner when off the school property, recognising that I am associated with St John's at all times;
- To show courtesy to visitors to the School, including parents of my fellow students;
- To respect, preserve and protect School property and to avoid littering the School grounds;
- To obey the Headmaster's Regulations.

I understand that I must abide by this Code of Conduct. I further understand that breaches of the Code of Conduct may result in punishment and hearings conducted in accordance with the procedures of the Disciplinary Council.

CODE ON ACADEMIC HONESTY

St John's College is an academic institution and community. Honesty is fundamental to all aspects of academic work. Maintaining academic integrity is the responsibility of all members of a scholastic community, and students at St John's College are held to the highest standards of conduct in this regard. In addition, the Independent Examinations Board demands of Matriculation candidates the very highest standard of integrity in all aspects of internally and externally assessed work.

The College also recognises its responsibility to prepare students for university and to develop in them the habits and personal standards of academic honesty. All universities consider academic dishonesty to be a serious disciplinary matter; the commission of an offence against academic honesty at university will always compromise a student's good standing.

At St John's College, cheating, plagiarism and all forms of academic dishonesty are serious violations which undermine and compromise both the student's education and the integrity of this learning community.

An offence against academic honesty is judged to have been committed knowingly if the student(s) ought reasonably to have known that the conduct was an offence.

CHEATING

Any deceit in academic work is cheating. At St John's College, it is an offence for a student to knowingly, for example:

- Use unauthorised notes or other aids, or to copy from or be influenced by someone else's work, during a homework exercise, test or examination;
- give unauthorised aid to someone else; and allow someone else to copy or use his quiz, test, or examination or assignment, essay or homework;
- use help on homework or take-home tests beyond the limits specified by the teacher;
- submit the same work for credit to more than one teacher, unless both teachers have given their permission in advance;
- use translations of texts studied in class without the permission of the teacher.

PLAGIARISM

Plagiarism, a specific form of cheating, is the theft of someone else's work. To use another's words, ideas, arguments, or research without proper acknowledgement is to plagiarise.

At St John's College, it is an offence for a student to knowingly, for example:

- Submit work as his own, any part of which was written or created by anyone else;
- submit work as his own, any part of which was copied directly from a source without being placed in quotation marks and without due acknowledgement, or paraphrased from a source without due acknowledgement;

submit work as his own, any part of which was based on notes or research unique to a particular source without due acknowledgement.

STUDENT RESPONSIBILITY

It is the student's responsibility to be honest in all aspects of academic work, and to be familiar with the St John's Code of Academic Honesty.

Homework: Homework is to be completed by the student himself - never completed or copied in whole or in part from another person, student or source. While it may be permissible to discuss homework assignments with other students, such discussion is a preliminary stage only, to be followed carefully at all times by individual effort, research and answering. In presenting homework, the student is in effect declaring, "This is my own work."

Assignments: Assignments prepared out of class. including lab reports, written responses, creative work, homework, and take-home tests or components of tests, must be completed by the student and be the student's own work-never in part or in whole copied from another person, student or source and never presenting the words, research, or ideas of another person, student or source without proper acknowledgement. The student is expected to follow the instructions for preparing and submitting the assignment. When submitting an assignment, the student is in effect declaring, "This is my own work".

Essays: Essays must be completed by the student and be the student's own work - never in part or in whole copied from another person, student or source and never presenting the words, research or ideas of another person or source without proper acknowledgement. The student is expected to follow carefully instructions for preparing and submitting the essay. When submitting an essay, the student is in effect declaring, "This is my own work."

Class Presentations and Seminars: Any work the student has prepared out of class for presentation in class is presumed to be entirely his own, unless he has made proper acknowledgement of help from another person, student, or source. In making a class presentation, the student is in effect declaring, "This is my own work."

Collaboration: Unless specifically directed or permitted by the teacher, collaboration with another student in any academic work, including assignments, lab reports, essays, take-home tests or components of tests, is to be avoided at all times. The College encourages students to discuss and debate their ideas, for discussion and debate are basic to the educational experience. However, in an academic assignment of any sort, discussion is a preliminary and limited stage only, a means of stimulating one's own approach and thinking, and must be followed by individual and unaided research, thinking and writing. Pooling ideas, sharing or assigning sections of writing and incorporating another student's ideas and writing into one's own, are examples of unacceptable collaboration. When such collaboration happens, the student cannot declare, "This is my own work." Unacknowledged collaboration or collaboration which has not been permitted by the teacher is cheating - and students whose academic work shows collaboration will be considered to have committed an offence against academic honesty.

Sharing Academic Work: Students should decline to share homework, assignments, essays and any notes or research with other students. In responding to a classmate's queries for help, the student should do no more than clarify the assignment, not give answers, ideas or materials. The classmate is expected to ensure that his work is "his own work" in all respects. When cheating or plagiarism occurs, a student who has allowed a classmate to borrow his work or who had given an inappropriate degree of assistance will be considered a party to the offence against academic honesty.

Receiving Outside Tutoring: A student who for understandable reasons engages a tutor for support in his academic work is especially reminded that a tutor is not a substitute for the student's own research, thinking and writing. A responsible tutor guides the student by questioning and instruction in skills; the tutor does not do the work for the student. A student who receives excessive assistance from a tutor cannot declare, "This is my own work."

Seeking Guidance in Matters of Academic Honesty: A student who is in doubt about any aspect of the principles and practices of academic honesty should consult his teacher, Housemaster, or the Librarian.

Quizzes, Tests, and Examinations: A student must write a quiz, test or examination from his own knowledge and ability. The possession and/or use of unauthorised aids, texts, or notes of any kind during the writing of a quiz, test or examination is cheating. A student who gives unauthorised aid to another student in a quiz, test or examination will be considered a party to the offence against academic honesty.

IEB: An offence against academic honesty in any area of formal IEB evaluation, including all internally and externally assessed components will compromise the awarding of subject grades and the Matriculation certificate.

Disciplinary Response: The disciplinary response to offences against academic honesty is designed to protect academic integrity in the interest of learning, and to promote the development of the habits and skills of academic responsibility in students. Cheating of any sort is a violation of community standards and of the principles upon which an academic institution is built, and will not be tolerated in any form.

HAIR POLICY

College and VIth Form Boys

Boys are expected to ensure that their personal appearance matches the school standards. A boy's hair should not draw unnecessary attention to himself.

They are guided by the following regulations:

- A boy's hair must be kept clean.
- It must be neat, short, and cut to follow the contour of the head.
- It may not cover the ears, or touch the collar nor must it touch the eyebrows when combed straight.
- Sideburns may not extend past halfway down the ear.
- Boys may not use styling gel or any other chemical products in their hair.
- They may not style their hair; shaved back and sides, steps, mohicans, mullets, patterns, dreadlocks, cornrows, braids, extensions etc., are not permissible.
- They may not colour their hair in any way.
- Hair may not be straightened or curled.
- Boys must be cleanly shaven every day.
- The Housemasters have the right to insist that boys address any infringement immediately or to send boys home for a haircut or to shave if this is required. Time out of class as a result of any of these actions will be made up by the boy.

Revised June 2015

ST JOHN'S COLLEGE CELLULAR TELEPHONE POLICY

- Cellular phones must be switched off when students are at any School assembly or performance, in Chapel and in classrooms, unless under the direct supervision of a teacher for academic use during a lesson. At all other times, students are to ensure that if they are using their cell phones, this does not contribute to their tardiness, does not negatively affect their greeting of adults or impact on the School's expectation of its students in any way.
- If a student is found using his/her phone when he/she is not permitted to do so, the phone and SIM card will be confiscated for a period of one week and a mandatory detention issued. This punishment will be escalated for repeat transgressors.
- Cellular phones may not be handed to the school secretary or any other member of staff for safekeeping. Cell phone safety boxes are available for hire at a nominal cost.
- Cellular phones are strictly prohibited during tests and exams. All cell phones are to be handed to the teacher before a test or exam (including class tests). Any student found with a cell phone on his/her person during a test or exam is guilty of a breach of the code on academic honesty.
- Any videoing or the taking of photographs is not permitted unless under staff supervision. Distribution of unauthorised pictures, video or sound recordings in a public form constitutes a disciplinary offence and will be referred to the Disciplinary Council.
- The School will not take any responsibility whatsoever for lost or stolen cellular phones.

POLICY ON ILLICIT SUBSTANCES

The problems associated with what has become the almost free availability of illicit substances in society permeate all sectors of our community, and St John's is no exception. Illicit substance experimentation and use poses a threat not only to the user's well-being, but through peer group interactions, to other boys in our community.

Illicit substances, therefore, have the potential to significantly undermine the ethos and achievements of our community and the individuals within it. Documented research shows that the notions of "soft illicit substances" and "safe illicit substance usage" are misconceptions, and that these forms of illicit substance taking are often the start of full-scale abuse. The use of performance enhancing substances in sport is illegal, as is the underage consumption of alcohol.

We do everything in our power to ensure that St John's boys are properly educated about the dangers of illicit substances through talks and the Life Orientation syllabus. Our random drug testing programme exists not only to identify boys who use illicit substances, but also to dissuade boys from accepting, if they are offered illicit substances.

Regular non-invasive urine tests are carried out in private and administered by a registered School Nurse. They provide an effective method of determining whether a boy has been experimenting with illicit substances. The results are strictly confidential and are only revealed to the boy's parents, Housemaster, and the Headmaster. This programme forms part of the broader pastoral role of the school. The costs of these tests are borne by the School.

Where a boy tests positive, he and his parents will be given full support by the school and be referred for counselling from professional counsellors. Boys who have tested positive are retested on a regular basis and the costs of these tests are borne by the parents. Only in cases of a second positive test would a boy's illicit substance taking become a matter of public school record, and a disciplinary issue which would probably result in expulsion from the College.

In the case of a boy being tested positive for the use of anabolic steroids, he will not be allowed to participate in any competitive sport for at least a calendar year, although he is expected to continue in a supportive capacity in the sporting sphere of the School. Details of our steroids testing policy are outlined on our website.

Should a parent have any queries, they should feel free to phone their son's Housemaster or they may wish to speak to me personally. Please note that the purpose of this programme is to be proactive and prevent illicit substance abuse happening at St John's in the future. With the support of parents, this multifaceted approach can effectively deal with a real societal threat to our boys.

GENERAL RULES

- Ball games are not permitted in the quadrangles at any time. Balls will be confiscated indefinitely.
- Boys are not permitted to wear jewellery of any description. This includes bracelets, earrings and rings. Watches and Medic-alert bracelets are allowed. Crucifixes worn on chains around boys' necks should remain covered. Items will be confiscated and not returned.
- Boys are expected to arrive at school cleanly shaven and with the regulation hair length and cut. Boys may be sent home immediately by their Housemasters if, in their opinion, boys do not meet the required standards. Any assessment missed as a consequence will result in boys obtaining nought for that assessment.
- Boys who take hot lunch are to produce their student cards when entering Darragh Hall. This includes boarders. Boys will not be allowed to enter if they do not have their card.
- Boys may NOT bring iPods or mp3 players to school. These will be confiscated for a period of two weeks if discovered. This also applies to earphones connected to cellphones. Repeat offenders will be able to collect confiscated items at the end of the year.
- No school bags, kitbags or any other property may be left lying around the school during lessons. These items must either be in classrooms or locked away in lockers. Bags may be confiscated and returned only after the payment of a fine.
- Blazer pockets are not to be used as storage space for water bottles or cold-drink bottles. These should be kept in schoolbags or kitbags. Bottles in blazer pockets will be confiscated if discovered.
